PEARCE CEMETERY

PEARCE

CEMETERY

This cemetery is located on Evergreen Lane at the intersection of Routes 34 and 71, Oswego, Illinois

This cemetery was recorded on August 11, 1984, by Charlotte Hampson, Adolph Kaiser, Mickie Meegan, Delores Nelson, James Peterson and Sharon Peterson, members of the Oswego Roots Genealogical Society. It was divided into four blocks and read from south to north. Blocks are arranged only for ease in reading stones, not necessarily in the order that the land was obtained. - - - - represents imaginary lines used to divide area into blocks. The map shows the cemetery as it appeared in August 1984.

Pearce Grave Yard was established in 1845 by Daniel Pearce on his farm. The first one buried was Josephine, a little daughter of Henry A. Clarke.

The following information is a transcription of genealogical data from stones in this cemetery. Anything underlined is information the copier was not sure about. We have read these stones to the best of our abilities. The stones are very old and are broken and worn away with age. There may be errors, but we have recorded them as we felt they read.
